THE PROBLEM

The healthcare and hospitality industries currently face serious liability from musculoskeletal injuries that can impact all service staff, from janitors to CNAs and nurses. The whole cycle of bringing clean linens to the right floor, servicing rooms, collecting dirty laundry, and getting the laundry to a cleaning facility involves moving carts. Those carts with their heavy loads become workplace hazards, causing substantial suffering and missed days of work for employees working in hospitals and clinics, or in hotels and resorts.

No business can afford to ignore the problem. The estimated annual cost of workplace musculoskeletal injuries is between $13 and $16 BILLION! A single injury can cost a minimum of $28,000 in workers compensation costs, higher insurance premiums, and lost productivity.

WHAT CAN BE DONE?

Ergonomic motorized solutions eliminate the push/pull forces that cause musculoskeletal injuries, and can easily be adapted to any healthcare or hospitality application. Our standard product lines of motorized carts and tuggers increase workplace productivity, reduce risk of injury, and boost employee morale.
